Creating Community

WITH OUR COMMUNITY
MANAGER

ADRIANA

Adriana Eraso, COhatch Lakeland's Community Manager and "COhatch Mom," sat down with us to talk about how she became one of the most well-known Community Managers in our ecosystem. Adriana joined our team prior to our Lakeland location opening, but her life before COhatch seems like the universe knew she was headed our way well before she did!

Adriana calls herself a "hospitality rat," having spent most of her childhood following her parents around their jobs at the Hyatt Regency in Baltimore for years. "I'd go into work with them and, over time, became fascinated with their world. I was able to travel with them for work and eventually jumped into hospitality when I went to college." After her stint in Miami for college and hotel work, Adriana worked with a local nonprofit, the Cystic Fibrosis Association, and learned the importance of giving back to the community.

"THESE PEOPLE HAVE BECOME MORE THAN JUST MEMBERS AND COWORKERS. THEY'RE NOW FRIENDS AND FAMILY."

After moving back to Central Florida, Adriana began looking for new opportunities back in hospitality. Adriana and her daughter moved to Lakeland, looking for the best schooling and community for their family, and the opportunity to join COhatch appeared. Since then, Adriana has been at COhatch and has become well-known by her community and members.

COhatch members in Lakeland lovingly call Adriana the "COhatch Mom," because Adriana's day-to-day involves helping members with everything they need to drive their business forward. From helping hook up AV systems for virtual meetings to making sure the space is clean and ready for the next group of visitors, Adriana equates her job to having "200 kids that I work with every day, and I say that lovingly, because I treat them with as much attention and care as I do my own child!"

Employee SPOTLIGHT

Adriana Eraso
Community Manager

If you know Adriana and ask why she loves her role as Community Manager and what it means to her, you won't be surprised by her answer. Adriana talks a bit more about what her day-to-day looks like, "Sitting at my desk every day, I see everything. But it's more than just keeping our space nice and tidy. I spend a lot of my day checking in with members, making sure they are getting as much out of our community as they possibly can, and focusing on how I can connect them with other members and resources they need to be successful."

Adriana is a pro at creating and engaging her community for a reason. Community has played a huge role in her life and every time you talk with Adriana, you can feel how meaningful it is to be a part of the Lakeland community. Adriana says, "Community has had a significant impact on my life. My family was hit hard by COVID during the pandemic and to come into a workplace where I know everyone has my back – and I have theirs – has helped me get through tough times. These people have become more than just members and coworkers. They're now friends and family."

WHAT'S HAPPENING AT

NOBLESVILLE HOSTS HSCO

COhatch Noblesville hosts the HSCO (Hamilton County Sheriff's Office) Community Foundation each year and this year was no different! This was COhatch's second year to be the host for this event where the sheriff's department threw a pizza party for local families in need. The foundation also provides school supplies at participating local businesses inside of Hamilton Towne Center where COhatch Noblesville is located.

Together with other partners (DSW Shoes, Old Navy, and the Good Samaritan Network of Hamilton County), the families and children of Noblesville received a new pair of shoes, clothes, and a backpack along with their pizza party! We are grateful to be a part of a community that continues to find ways to serve others. Thank you to the Hamilton County Sheriff's Office for allowing us to be a small part of this event every year.

Impact AT LAKELAND

At COhatch Lakeland, the team brought together startups and nonprofits through an Impact Day event where members gathered to learn more about uplifting organizations who are making a difference. Market Leader Brian Sanders led the event and provided insights into how we can all work together to make a bigger impact. Brian said, "We come from a world of competition, where we compete with other businesses and one another, but so much more good happens when we're working together. When we're looking out for one another, so much more attraction happens that allows us to accomplish more." We can't wait to see how our members make a difference together!

TRANSFORMING

Collaborating With Star House For Homeless Youth

Lives

This partnership between Star House and COhatch aims to breathe new life into the apartment units that act as stepping stones for homeless youth on their journey towards independence. The makeover goes beyond aesthetics; it's about creating an environment that fosters hope, dignity, and motivation.

In addition to the renovation of 62 apartment units, COhatch will also renovate the drop-in center that serves the residents of the Carol Stewart Village and other young adults in the community.

Both Star House and COhatch believe the significance of this partnership extends far beyond cosmetic changes. The transformation of these apartments and drop-in center signifies a tangible investment in the lives of homeless youth. By offering a nurturing environment that supports personal growth and development, the project is set to amplify the success of homeless youth in the real world.

Collaborating with organizations like Star House aligns with the COhatch mission to strengthen communities, improve lives, and equip our members to be greater in every aspect of life. COhatch will be extending opportunities to our members and the public to volunteer their time and resources to this cause.

With this project's success there is proof that individually we are just a drop, but together we are an ocean that creates ripples of lasting change.

To learn more about this project or to volunteer your time or resources, please visit our Impact page at COhatch.com.

In the heart of Columbus, Ohio, a remarkable organization is making strides to change the lives of homeless youth. Star House, a beacon of hope, is dedicated to providing support, resources, and a safe haven for vulnerable young individuals facing homelessness.

Because of the impact around Star House and their mission, COhatch is partnering with the Star House team to create more opportunities to serve the homeless youth in the area. At COhatch, we strive to create spaces that are purposeful and provide connections between our members and the larger community. For this reason, COhatch is on a mission to support Star House through the renovation of their Carol Stewart Village apartments and drop-in center.

Homelessness among young people is a critical issue that often goes unnoticed. Star House was established with the aim of offering holistic support to these homeless youth. However, the organization goes beyond providing a roof over their heads. With a multi-faceted approach, Star House empowers these young individuals with access to housing, education, employment opportunities, healthcare, life skills training, and much-needed emotional support.

SMALL BUSINESS & SERVICE COME TOGETHER AT COHATCH & STAR HOUSE

Meet Arun Biswas

Arun Biswas is getting it done in the world of small business consulting and community service. With a career that began in the corporate sector and a passion for giving back, Arun's journey is one of transformation and impact.

Arun initially embarked on his professional journey as the R&D Training and Talent Manager at Nestlé R&D. However, his entrepreneurial spirit and desire to create a meaningful impact led him to venture out on his own. Teaming up with his partner, Arun co-founded "Learning at the Speed of Work," a management and training consulting team that specializes in helping small businesses and entrepreneurs find the root causes of their challenges to implement solutions for positive and measurable business impact. Reflecting on his journey, Arun shared, "I love working with truly diverse, exceptionally talented people from around the globe. I also love helping organizations find the root causes of the challenges they face and implementing meaningful solutions for positive business impact."

insights, and engaging with fellow entrepreneurs through the Rev1 partnership.

COhatch's commitment to serving our community aligns perfectly with Arun's values. Eager to jump in, Arun signed up for his first COhatch Impact Day before he even officially signed his award letter to COhatch. The Impact Day COhatch organized in partnership with Star House, an organization focused on supporting youth experiencing homelessness in Columbus, provided a unique opportunity for Arun and others to lend a hand. On Impact Day, Arun and his wife, Julie, volunteered their time and skills to help build furniture and organize supplies for several Star House apartments.

When asked about his commitment to community service, Arun commented, "Community service has always been a part of my rhythm of life. It's one of the reasons I wanted to start my own business - to have opportunities to serve the community, to give back."

In Arun, we see a visionary leader who seamlessly blends his expertise in small business consulting with a genuine commitment to community service.

"COMMUNITY SERVICE HAS ALWAYS BEEN A PART OF MY RHYTHM OF LIFE."

Arun's commitment to helping small businesses extends beyond his consulting work. He is a recent recipient of the COhatch Boost Scholarship, a program designed to support startups by providing access to COhatch's coworking spaces and community resources. This scholarship has proven to be a pivotal platform for networking, gaining startup

His journey from the corporate world to entrepreneurship is a testament to the power of passion, purpose, and the desire to create a positive impact both in business and the community. As he continues to make strides in these areas, Arun stands as an inspiring example for aspiring entrepreneurs and community advocates alike.

Scholar SPOTLIGHT

Wayfinders, an organization located in Charlotte, North Carolina, has been working towards outside equity for children in their community for 30 years. For years, Mollie James and her team have been dedicated to the original mission of Wayfinders founder, Bruce Irons: to get more people outside who don't always have access or the knowledge to do so.

What started as an organization that sent kids to overnight summer camps, has now become a year-round organization that provides access to nature hikes, canoeing, children's art & performances, and many other outdoor activities for children who haven't had access to nature and community before. Things like free swim lessons, STEM and education opportunities, and mentorship are also a part of the program, which has helped children succeed through their formative years all the way through college.

In 2006, the organization served 18 scholars, but as of next summer, 180 children will be served in some capacity through the Wayfinders program. The goal is to continue to provide resources for kids and young adults who need them to help them succeed through higher education. Mollie and her team are looking for mentors in the Charlotte area who are dedicated to helping their scholars make the most of their time in the program. Interested in supporting children locally through the outdoors, education, and more? If you're a hygge member or someone in Charlotte reading this, now is the time to apply to be a mentor. Wayfinders is currently utilizing hygge locations to collaborate and build community around their programming, so if you're in the area, stop by and learn more about what they do. You can also get in touch with them online at wayfindersnc.org getWITit Pittsburgh is a nonprofit organization that works with women in tech to help them create connections and community, find their passion, and navigate their careers. Co-Presidents Sunnie Fenk and Erica Tamburo believe every woman should have the chance to flourish in the industry. Sunnie says, "We try to make the connections between women in tech because we know just how important networking has been to our careers. Our goal is to provide ways for women in tech to build their circle around them, build their confidence, and help them get to the next level of their career or dreams!"

getWITit has been around for many years and has chapters across the country, including three in Ohio. The getWITit Pittsburgh chapter is utilizing COhatch to host board meetings and provide new ways for their chapter to meet and engage with one another.

Each year, getWITit Pittsburgh hosts an annual conference to bring women together to learn from experts about their experiences in the industry. To learn more about getWITit, go to getwiteit.org/about Him & Me is a father-daughter organization looking to cultivate strong relationships between dads and daughters in Cleveland, Ohio. Through daddy-daughter dances, workshops, and events, Him & Me provides experiences for fathers and their daughters to strengthen their bonds, as well as give young girls the connection opportunities they need to become strong women.

In the month of August, Him & Me hosted their annual daddy-daughter dance with 400 people in attendance. With the help of COhatch, the organization is now working towards creating new events and workshops to provide connection points for fathers and their daughters. By utilizing our spaces, Him & Me will be able to host workshops and events for members and non-members, helping them build stronger familial relationships.

LaToyia Jones, the Creator & Founder of Him & Me, says, "The passion of the people behind COhatch has helped bring a new perspective and way to uplift our community. We're so grateful to be able to have a space to grow our community and help them thrive, allowing us to accomplish more together." To learn more about Him & Me, visit himandmedance.com
